ACP GRANTS & AWARDS 2019

AWARDS FOR ACP MEMBERS

The following awards are available to ACP members in the forthcoming year. Full conditions for each of the awards are available on the ACP website www.pathologists.org.uk together with application forms where applicable.

ACP Career Development Awards

£10,000 is available to fund these awards in 2019, and applications can be made for the full amount. Awards are available for Consultants and Specialist Trainees who have been members of the ACP for at least three years to undertake further professional development, either in the UK or overseas, and will not be awarded retrospectively for periods of study which have already taken place.

There is no closing date for applications, which can be submitted throughout the year.

ACP Travel Fund Awards

£7,000 is available to fund these awards during 2019, up to a maximum of £500 per application for a UK educational activity or, at the discretion of the Education Secretary, £1,000 for an overseas educational activity. (Members with 6 months or more membership can apply for an award of up to £500 and after 12 months membership, up to £1,000.) Preference is given to Trainees applying for funding to attend scientific conferences or undertaking educational activities overseas. It is not available for any purpose in the UK or Republic of Ireland unless application to other sources has been unsuccessful and will not be awarded retrospectively for periods of study which have already taken place.

There is no closing date for applications, which can be submitted throughout the year.

ACP Research Award for Pathologists in Training

The Association of Clinical Pathologists is keen to promote research undertaken by members who are at an early stage of their careers. The Council of the Association awards an annual prize of £500 for the best paper in any pathological discipline presented by a trainee member. Submissions are invited of written papers of interest to clinical pathologists.

The closing date for applications is 1 April 2019

AWARDS FOR NON MEMBERS

ACP Student Research Fund Awards

£45,000 is available to support the living expenses of medical students undertaking an intercalated Bachelors or Masters degree in laboratory medicine. Applications to support intercalated degrees and small projects for the 2019-20 academic year will be considered. Nine awards of up to £5000 are available (maximum £1000 for small projects).

ACP Incentive Prizes for junior doctors (pre-ST)

These awards are available to any eligible junior doctor (that is prior to beginning Specialty Training, including F1 and F2 years) who submit work demonstrating the importance of pathology in the practice of medicine. Applicants can be practising in Great Britain, Ireland (or overseas under the supervision of an ACP member). Suitable submissions might be an audit project; an essay highlighting a particular aspect of pathology and its practice; a questionnaire based project or an outline of work done in helping in a research project. A maximum of five prizes, of up to £100 each, will be awarded annually for the best submissions.

Entries for this prize must be submitted before 1 April 2019
